WINTER QUARTER CLASSES END MAR. 16

Students enter the final days of the Winter Quarter next week. The last day of classes is Thursday, March 16. Finals begin Friday, March 17 and continue through March 22.

Academic advisement for the Spring Quarter ends today.

The Admissions Office is continuing to accept applications for the Spring Quarter. According to Admissions Officer Cheryl Weese classes have been scheduled to make it easier for working or part-time students, military personnel or those with family commitments to attend college.

In many majors course work can be done in the mornings only. Other students can take all of their classes in the afternoons. Evening or late-day classes, which draw heavily from working adults such as teachers and business people, also fit the needs of the younger student with commitments.

Additionally, an increasing number of classes is being offered on Saturdays. Spring Quarter Saturday classes include ceramics, three courses for teachers, Chicano politics, consumer protection, Health and Environmental law, fencing and psychology of women.

Registration for the term will be held on March 29 and 30. Classes begin April 3.

THE CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

James Guthrie, Guest Conductor
in a program of music

James K. Guthrie of San Bernardino, a nationally known musical director, will be the guest conductor for the March 12 performance of the Chamber Orchestra on campus.

Mr. Guthrie is serving as guest conductor during the Winter Quarter sabbatical leave of Dr. Richard Saylor, Professor of Music.

The 39-member orchestra, composed of community musicians as well as students from CSCSB and neighboring colleges, will begin the performance at 7:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

The first half of the program will be devoted to works of French composers whose approach is light-hearted. Michael Tachia, CSCSB graduate, will be the pianist.

Incidental music for a Moliere play, intended to illustrate various scenes, makes up the second half of the performance: interpretations by Jean-Baptiste Lully and Richard Strauss.

Admission is $1.50. Children and students with identification will be admitted free.

THE CONCERT CHOIR AND CHAMBER SINGERS

The Cal State, San Bernardino Concert Choir will conclude the Winter Quarter music events with a performance on Wednesday, March 15.

Directing the 40-voice choir will be Dr. Loren Filbeck, Associate Professor of Music.

"Komm, Jesu, Komm," by Johann Sebastian Bach will be the opening number. "Jephthah" by Giacomo Carissimi will feature seven soloists: Michele Peters, Paul Chatfield, James Rogers, Denise Nannestad, Corrine Soto, Janet Otteson and David Poole. Dr. Rogers is a member of the Administration faculty.

"Liebeslieder Walzer," Opus 52 by Johannes Brahms is an appealing number filled with love songs, considered to be one of Brahms' most popular works - light, sensual and entertaining.

Admission to the performance is $1.50. Students and children with identification will be admitted free. The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Creative Arts Building.

CONCERT PIANIST JOINS MUSIC TEACHING STAFF

A talented pianist who has received critical acclaim for her performances of contemporary music in concerts throughout the United States is joining the CSCSB music faculty for the Spring Term.

Althea Mitchell Waites, who is also on the UCR teaching staff, will teach Studies in Forms: Jazz History, Music 402 next quarter.

Ms. Waites will be remembered for her performance last October on campus when she presented a concert of classical and jazz selections. She has appeared with several orchestras including the New Orleans Philharmonic and the Norfolk Symphony Orchestra of Virginia. She also has worked with various jazz ensembles in Virginia, New York and Atlanta and has collaborated on projects in Afro-Music at U of Mass-Amherst. In addition to UCR, she has taught at Smith College, Norfolk State and Alderson-Broadus College in West Virginia.
